Xi Jinping to visit North Korea ahead of G20

AGENCE FRANCE-PRESSE

Beljing, June 17 Xi Jinping will make the first trip to North Korea by a Chinese President in 14 years, this week, reported state media CCTV on Monday, as Beijing tightens relations with Pyongyang amid tensions with the US.

"Xi will visit Pyongyang on Thursday and Friday at the invitation of North Korean leader Kim Jong Un," said the Chinese broadcaster.

The timing is likely to raise eyebrows at the White House as it comes one week before the G20 summit in Japan, where US President Donald Trump expects to meet with Xi to discuss their protracted trade war.

Analysts said Xi could now use North Korea as leverage in talks with Trump. China and North Korea have worked to improve relations in the past year after they deteriorated as Beijing backed a series of UN sanctions against its Cold War-era ally over its nuclear activities.

The North's leader Kim Jong Un has travelled to China four times in the past year to meet Xi.

However, this will be Xi's first trip there as Chinese President since Hu Jintao visited in 2005.

"China-DPRK relations have opened a new chapter," said

Chinese President Xi Jinping

CCTV, adding that Xi and Kim have reached a "series of important consensus" in past meetings.

"Xi and Kim will push for new progress in a political resolution of the Korean peninsula issue," according to CCTV, which cited an unnamed official.

With Beijing and Washington at loggerheads over trade, China is keen to remind Trump of its influence in Pyongyang, with whom his nuclear negotiations are also at a deadlock.

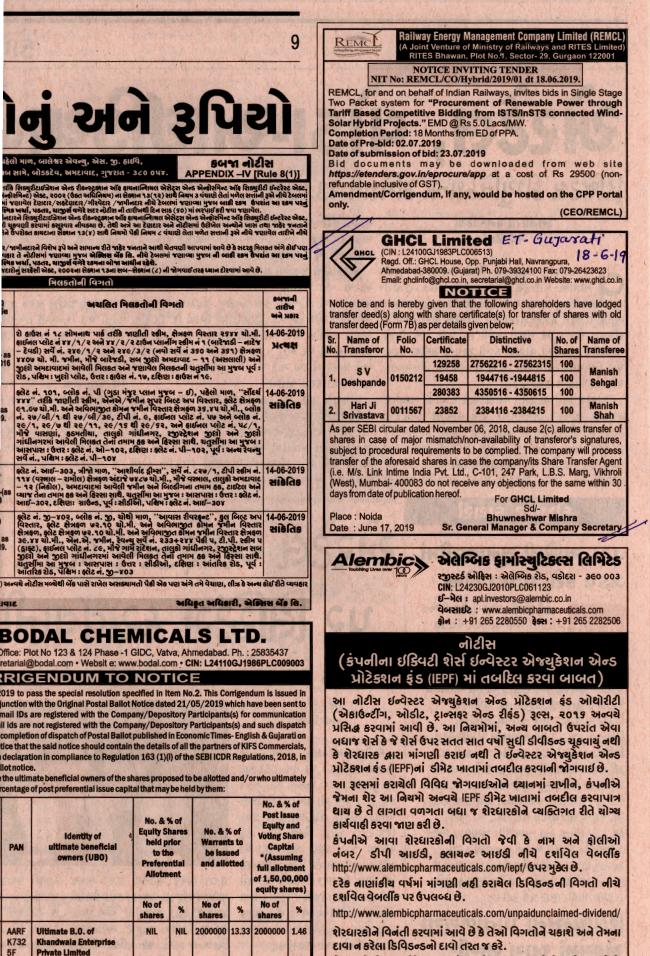

According to a source in Pyongyang, Beijing was keen to arrange a visit to North Korea ahead of any encounter between Xi and Trump at the G20 summit — with logistics finalised only last month.
