MONSOON TRAWLING BAN

Fishing boat operators want period shortened

V SAJEEV KUMAR

Kochi, April 28

Kerala's mechanised fishing boat operators are keeping their fingers crossed over the ensuing 61-day monsoon trawling ban by the State Government along the west coast from June 1. They have sought a reduction in the period of the ban this year considering the severity of the Covid-19 pandemic situation.

In a letter to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the All-Kerala Fishing Boat Operators Association pointed out that the fishing sector in the State has faced untold miseries during the two stretches of the fishing ban last year, including that of the Covid related restrictions, leaving the community in abject poverty.

Now, the second wave of the pandemic is tightening its grip and people began to panic. Given such a situation, enlarging the period of the ban this year would push the fishing community into a further precarious position, said Joseph Xavier Kalapurackal, general secretary of the association.

He urged the Prime Minister to take a pragmatic decision in the monsoon trawling ban by reducing the number of days to 30 days. The already depleted financial stock of the fisherfolk would further weaken, if the ban in the current year continues for 61 days, he said and added that more than 3.5 lakh people are directly and indirectly engaged in the sector in meeting their livelihood.

According to the association, the spiraling increase in diesel prices has put the sector into severe difficulties with daily mounting expenses and an uncertainty in the catch.

He said that global warming and erratic climate conditions have made a considerable reduction in fish resources, resulting in dwindling catches. The Covid-related restrictions have also hit exports.

Ouoting studies and reports, he said the imposition of a vearly monsoon ban is old and outdated.
